Sample exam question

Topic: The Parliamentary Tradition

From your knowledge of Irish history, write an account of the role and significance of a leader involved in the parliamentary tradition of Irish politics.

Choose one of the following:
- Henry Grattan
- Daniel O'Connell
- Charles Stewart Parnell
- John Redmond
- Any other leader involved in the parliamentary tradition

In your answer, you could include some of the following topics:
- Political background
- Main political ideas
- Elections, and time in parliament
- Campaigns carried out
- Methods used
- Problems faced
- Achievements

Chosen leader:
Account: